The democrats have given up Ohio, and Ohio has given up the democrats.

Wouldn't the democrats have a jolly campaign if they could sponge out the record of their party?

General Butler takes a brass band with him. A band never sounds well when it is playing for the wrong party.

The democratic party deeply laments that it ever prayed for the nomination of Mr. Blaine. He is the wrong man on the wrong side for the democrats.

A party that has not a statesman in it that it dare nominate for the presidency, is not a party that the people will endorse on the 4th of November.

Free lying, free slander and free trade are the watchwords of the democracy in this campaign. They are poor weapons but no poorer than the party always has in a national campaign.

After the election the republicans will feel like getting up a handsome testimonial for the democrats. Cleveland was nominated that the republicans might be suited, and they are well suited.

St. John runs his campaign on Sunday and gets in his best work and the day consecrated to rest and to worship. If the other parties followed his example what would the churches say to that?

Among the voters in Ohio are 90,000 wool-growers. A very large majority of these will vote for Blaine; and if the others had the wool drawn from over their eyes they would vote for Blaine, also.

We fear that Mr. Cleveland has set a bad example, and that other sheriffs will try to attend court 863 days in one year. It stretches the Gregorian calendar terribly to do it, but no more than the democratic party stretches its conscience in a campaign.

One week from to-day the election will take place in Ohio. The contest will undoubtedly be close with the odds in favor of the republicans. The estimates on the majorities differ, though not materially. The republican managers estimate the majority from 10,000 to 15,000. Senator Sherman says that the state will give at least 10,000 republican majority and probably more. Governor Foster says that he has no doubt of a great victory. The canvass of the state reveals surprising gains.

A staff correspondent of the Philadelphia Press has paid a visit to the south making, as near as could possibly be made a thorough canvass of the political situation. The result of the investigation leads to the conclusion that the nomination of Mr. Blaine, whose broad views on national affairs have gained for him a degree of popularity in the south hitherto possessed by no republican statesman, makes the moment opportune to appeal to southern men to recognize the great and living doctrine of protection to native industries, that rises above all old issues. This doctrine, named by Henry Clay, the American system, has made recent southern industrial progress possible, and its continuance will alone ensure the still greater industrial progress that awaits this section of the country. The new south, under Mr. Blaine's admiration, will, indeed, be made "the inviting field for the measureless unemployed energies, enterprise and capital of the north and west, and the arena or a material development unprecedented even in American annals."

Well, as the democrats like to talk about the weather, suppose they print the following from the Philadelphia Press, so that those democrats who want to protect themselves can get out of the storm: "The political weather indications are very low democratic barometer in the Eastern, Middle Atlantic and Western states, protracted cloudiness with great fall of temperature in the Pacific states, special earthquake premonitions in Ohio and West Virginia, cyclones in Vermont and Maine. Increased republican temperature throughout the North and in Maryland, the Virginias, North Carolina, Florida, Tennessee and Louisiana, high protective barometer in Ohio, clearing skies in all the doubtful states and steady Blaine and Logan breezes toward the Capitol."

Judge Tourgee has written a letter to the New York Tribune on his support of Blaine. He opposed the nomination of Blaine, but now he declares first, that the democratic party has demonstrated its unfitness, the republican party its fitness, to rule the country; second, that the party whose only possible chance for success is based on violence and fraud at Southern polls has no possible claim on a Northern man's vote; third, that a consideration of the personal character and qualifications of the candidates compels him to support Mr. Blaine; fourth, that the association of a silent spectator of the war for the Union with a zealous and active copperhead makes it a duty to defeat them both. Last spring Judge Tourgee was disturbed by the charges against Mr. Blaine, but a careful study of all the evidence, and especially the latest installment has convinced him that those charges were false.

There are many strong arguments why Mr. Cleveland should be defeated; but every voter, especially no who demands consistency in a party as well as in a candidate, should carefully read and soberly ponder the following from the New York Sun: "Here in New York, in Connecticut, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Ohio, those who hold the lead of the democracy are protectionists, and they are laboring to elect Mr. Cleveland as one who will not be against protection after he is elected. On the other hand, in Indiana, Kentucky, Illinois, Iowa and Wisconsin, it is the free trade democrats who are conducting the campaign, and it is in behalf of their policy of a tariff for revenue only that the contest is waged. Now, suppose that Mr. Cleveland should be elected, it would, of course, be impossible for him to keep faithfully the conflicting pledges which each of these two factions understands that it has received from him; and it would be impossible for him or for anybody else to repress the conflict between the democratic free-traders and the democratic protectionists. The war would have to be fought out. It would be a sharp and a bitter war, and after it was over, the integrity of the democratic organization would be gone. The safety of the democracy requires the defeat of Grover Cleveland."

JOHN M'CULLOUGH'S COMPLAINT.

He Charges the Chicago Press with Malignity.

St. Louis, Oct. 7.—John McCullough arrived at the Southern hotel Sunday in company with J. H. Breslin. In answer to a question by a reporter he said: "I am as well as I ever was in my life, the reports of the press notwithstanding."

"Have you terminated your engagements this season to take a rest?" "I have not. I will open in St. Louis next Monday week, where I am underlined. McVicker, the manager of the theatre in Chicago, closed his doors upon me and refused to allow me to play, when I was as capable as I ever was. But I will be even some day."

"What is the cause then of this report of your nervous prostration?" "It is from the vile press of Chicago, instigated by McVicker. I am not prostrated. I am as vigorous as I ever was. My season will go on as usual, and my troupe will join me here next week. I had a seven months' rest in Germany and that was enough."

"What caused the press to declare that you failed in Chicago?" "Malignity. They reported that I was hissed. That is untrue. McVicker and his wife occupied a box my first night. The next night several things went wrong in the last act, but not more through my fault than others. The greatest actors have done likewise. Why, I recollect the time when I prompted Forrest through a whole scene."

"Have you ever lost consciousness on the stage?"

"Not once. I am as strong now as I ever was, and I have been the victim of calumny."

Fraudulent Failure.

Providence, R. I., Oct. 7.—The failure of Emil Dahlheimer & Co., jewelers, of Cincinnati, has caused much excitement among the manufacturing jewelers of this city and Attleboro, who appear to have become involved to the extent of $20,000 to $30,000. From the statement of those who are in position to know, including the manager of Dun's mercantile agency, it appears that the whole affair is a deliberately-planned swindle. On July 23 last, Dahlheimer called at Dun's mercantile agency and made a showing to the effect that he was worth from $20,000 to $30,000 in stock and fixtures, and owed between $4,000 and $5,000 which was his own indebtedness. He promised to substantiate the statement, but failed to do so. It has always been surmised that he was connected with Charles J. and Joseph Steinau, who recently failed, but he made a positive denial. Since, it has been ascertained that the denial was untrue. Among those in the city of whom he bought goods, and who have sent them, are J. C. Richardson, Atwood & Calwell, Milliam, Hamilton & Co., Carey & Williams, John McClay, Charles S. Pine, W. R. Richards, William Butt, and Babbitt & Cameron. He ordered largely from others, who, fortunately, have not sent the goods. He bought mostly plated goods. It is reported to have been discovered lately that he would buy goods heavily here and almost simultaneously sell them out west 40 per cent. below cost. One of the heaviest losers reported is John Etsensperger, of Attleboro.

Democrats Preparing for Blaine.

Chicago, Oct. 7.—The Times' Columbus, Ohio, special says: Members of county committees from points along Blaine's second route were at Democratic state headquarters Monday, and arrangements were completed to give Mr. Blaine a very warm reception. This time the Democrats will hold meetings at all the stops made by the opposition party, and strive to outdo Republicans in the demonstrations, attendance and enthusiasm. Great efforts will be made to do it. The leading Democratic speakers of the country have been summoned to address the Democracy as Mr. Blaine's party passes by. There will be millions of documents strewn along the way, such as Brooks' letter charging Blaine with being connected with companies in the Hocking valley, where the strikers are up in arms, the Mulligan letters, and other papers. Carl Schurz will be the speaker in this city when Blaine is here this week. Most of the Cleveland and Hendricks clubs of the state are arranging to concentrate at Lancaster, Saturday night, where Blaine stops for the Sabbath, and on which occasion the Republicans are trying to get up a grand final demonstration. As the feeling is now high, there may be trouble, especially at Lancaster, where the processions of the two parties will pass in the same streets.

The Boston Boy and the Lasso.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 7.—Saturday afternoon several boys living in Brighton went into the pasture of J. A. Monroe, on Foster street, and tried to imitate Buffalo Bill by lassoing a cow. One of the boys, named Sidney Parsons, 12 years of age, tied a rope to his waist and then threw the loop over the cow's horns. The cow became infuriated and ran over fences and stone walls, dragging the lad after her. Fortunately the rope broke and the lad was released from his perilous position. He was taken up insensible, and it was found that several ribs were broken, besides receiving a severe scalp wound and severe bruises all over the body. His injuries may possibly prove fatal.

Great Discovery.

Mr. Wm. Thomas, of Newton, Ia., says: "My wife has been seriously affected with a cough for twenty-five years, and this spring more severely than ever before. She had used many remedies without relief, and being urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery, did so, with most gratifying results. The first bottle relieved him very much, and the second bottle has absolutely cured her. She has not had so good head for thirty years."

THE CABLE'S BURDEN.

A Great Storm on the Adriatic with Heavy Loss of Life.

Fourteen Children Drowned—Minister Lowell Talks Democracy—Report That Col. Stewart Has Been Murdered.

London, Oct. 7.—It is reported at Cairo that Col. Stewart has been killed at Borbor. Maj. Kitchener telegraphs that the whole of Col. Stewart's party were murdered. Col. Stewart and party were stranded on the rocks of the cataract at Wady Garna. He had requested the mudir of Dongola to send him assistance a few days ago.

The war office is uncertain as to the fate of Col. Stewart and forty men en route to Dongola. The steamer struck the rocks and could not be floated. A bargain was made with the Arabs to provide camels and conduct the party through the desert to Morawi. The Arabs proved treacherous, massacred the first party which landed, and then boarded the vessel and killed the remainder, with the exception of four men, whose names are unknown. It is feared Col. Stewart is among the killed. It is unknown whether Mr. Power, the correspondent of The Times, returned to Khartoum or was with Stewart.

Minister Lowell on Democracy.

Birmingham, Oct. 6.—James Russell Lowell, American minister, delivered a lecture here Monday night upon the theme of Democracy. His remarks created a great deal of enthusiasm among the large audience present. He said that the spectacle of the great and powerful democracy of America must create a profound impression upon the minds of the aspiring men of the Old World, but it should never be forgotten that the acorn, from which sprang this powerful democracy, was nurtured and riponed on the British oak.

London, Oct. 7.—The morning papers are unanimous in eulogizing Minister Lowell's eloquent and learned effort at Birmingham Monday evening.

Terrible Storm on the Adriatic.

Ravenna, Oct. 6.—A terrific storm visited this vicinity and extended far down the Adriatic coast. The railway bridge across the Montone river at this place was destroyed, vessels were wrecked and twelve persons drowned.

At Pesaro the storm was scarcely less violent. Many vessels were driven ashore and broken to pieces and the town flooded with water. Several persons were drowned.

The Cholera.

Naples, Oct. 7.—There were forty new cases of cholera and nineteen deaths in this city Monday. In Genoa there were twenty-seven new cases and twelve deaths.

Barcelona, Oct. 7.—Several deaths occurred here Monday which are believed to have been caused by cholera. The health authorities are using all possible efforts to allay the alarm which is felt.

Wants More Canadians.

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 7.—In addition to the Candian contingents sent to Egypt to join the Gordon relief expedition, the imperial government has cabled for eight steamboat captains used to light draft vessels, to be sent over immediately to join boatmen at Alexandria. The captains will sail from Quebec next Saturday for Liverpool

The Break in the Gould Cables.

London, Oct. 7.—Tests made show that one of the Gould cables is broken, 1,800 miles out. The other presents faults at a much shorter distance from England, but is not believed to be severed. Both cables will probably be interrupted for several months.

Gold on the Amoor River.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 7.—New gold fields of great richness are reported to have been discovered on the Amoor river, in Russian Mantchooria, twelve miles from the Chinese frontier. A great rush has set in from all quarters of the empire for this district.

Roman Catholic Appointment.

Rome, Oct. 7.—The Abbe Glorieux, principal of St. Michael's college, Portland, Ore., has been appointed apostolic vicar for Idaho, and that part of Montana lying west of the Rocky mountains.

Fourteen Children Drowned.

Vienna, Oct. 7.—A boat containing a number of children capsized on the river Drave at Eszek, Hungary, Monday, and fourteen of them were drowned.

Small-Pox Among the Highlanders.

Cairo, Oct. 7.—Small-pox has broken out among the black watch (Forty-second Highlanders) and the regiment has been quarantined at Assouin.

Ristori Coming to America.

London, Oct. 7.—Mme. Ristori, the celebrated actress, sails for the United States on the 17th inst.

A French Communist in Exile.

New York, Oct. 7.—Mme. Heloise de la Brabend, the celebrated French Communist, arrived here on the steamer Normandie, Monday, having been exiled by the French government. In her days Mme. Brabendi's influence among the French communists was second only to Louise Michel. She led a large faction of the insane "Petroleuse," who came very near reducing Paris to ashes, and in 1874 was sentenced to prison for twenty years, which term she partly served at Toulon. While confined in the fortress she contracted the rheumatism., which led to her being released under police supervision, after five years of service. She, however, managed to evade the watch set upon her, and was the cause of the conflagration in the Quartier Latin in Paris three years ago. It was discovered shortly after, and she was confined in a dungeon, which nearly killed her. She was released two months ago on condition that she would leave France, and accordingly embarked on the Normandie. She is now nearly bent double with rhoumatism, weak, and apparently 70 years of age, although in reality but 55.

The Line Must Go Through Paris.

Washington City, Oct. 7.—The international meridian congress reconvened at the state department at noon Monday, and resumed discussion of the resolution proposing to select Greenwich as the prime meridian. The French delegates still insist upon Paris as the prime meridian. Members of the congress say they are no nearer reaching an agreement than they were on the day they met, and owing to the opposition of the French delegates, doubt whether any agreement will be reached. If it were not for this opposition, unanimous action, recommending that the line pass through Greenwich might soon be taken.

The Ancient and Honorable.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 7.—The Ancient and Honorable Artillery company observed its annual field day Monday by a trip to New Bedford, a parade in that city under escort of Company E, First infantry, a banquet at the city hall and a late return home.

CONNECTICUT ELECTION.

The Constitutional Amendment Carried—Other Results.

Bridgeport, Conn., Oct. 7.—In Stratford the Republicans elected their town ticket with the exception of an assessor and the commissioner on Washington bridge. In Trumbull the Democratic town ticket is elected. The constitutional amendment is carried by 100 majority. In Monroe the Republican town ticket is elected. Constitutional amendment—yeas, 107; nays, 15. In Easton the entire Republican ticket is elected by a vote of 2 to 1. Majority for constitutional amendment, 73. In this city the constitutional amendment resulted—yeas, 584; nays, 490.

Meriden, Conn., Oct. 7.—The election Monday was very quietly, but earnestly conducted. The vote on the constitutional amendment was—yeas, 1,572; nays, 249. The Republican ticket was elected by 275 majority.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 7.—One hundred and fourteen towns give 13,051 majority for the biennial session amendment. This does not include the vote of Hartford. Amendment is adopted by at least 10,000 majority. The town elections show slight Republican gains.

Hartford, Conn., Oct. 7.—The real contest here was on first selectman. Winslow (Rep.) was defeated by Fowler (Dem.) by over 1,000 majority, Fowler's majority last year was 450. The returns show a Democratic sweep, with average gain of 250. Bloomfield and East Hartford both voted no license. Republican majority is small—a large loss. In Norwich the Republicans' majority is the same as last year. The amendment was carried. In New Britain 100 Democratic gain; 200 majority against amendment.

At midnight the latest returns from most towns show Democratic gains to be general throughout the state. Biennial elections amendment undoubtedly carried by a good majority. One hundred and twenty-two towns, including Hartford, show a majority for constitutional amendment of 18,038.

New London, Oct. 7.—The election for town and city officers here Monday reversed the result of the election one year ago. The entire Republican ticket excepting two minor offices was elected. The constitutional amendment was carried by 748 majority. The town voted for license by a majority of 491.

THE JOURNALIST'S BRIDE.

Washington City, Oct. 7.—John R. McLean, editor and proprietor of The Cincinnati Enquirer was married Tuesday morning to Miss Emily T. Beale, daughter of Gen. E. F. Beale, of Washington City. The wedding was strictly private, and in the presence of only the immediate relatives of the two families. Rev. William E. Leonard, of St. Johns Episcopal church, officiated. Mr. McLean left at once for Ohio to take an active part in the campaign.

Blaine's West Virginia Trip.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Oct. 7.—The ovations tendered to Mr. Blaine Monday by the people of the eight counties along the Baltimore & Ohio road through which the party passed, did not differ materially from those witnessed in New York and Ohio, except that the numbers engaged in them were less, on account of the region being more sparsely settled. Making allowances for the latter fact, the outpouring of people was something remarkable. The more notable demonstrations were at Moundsville, Cameron, Mannington, Fairmount, Grafton, Clarksburg and Parkersburg. The enthusiasm was great. The day's receptions closed with a rousing welcome in Parkersburg.

Mr. Blaine expresses himself as greatly pleased with the manifestations of friendship by the people of West Virginia. Toward the end of the day's journey, especially, he seemed in unusually good spirits, and interspersed his speeches with numerous witty and felicitious remarks.

A Talk with Minister Morton.

New York, Oct. 7.—Levi P. Morton, minister of the United States to France, arrived in this city from Havre. He was accompanied by his mother-in-law, Mrs. Street, having left his wife and five children behind him in Paris. Mr. Morton was asked: "Is it true that you have come over with the intention of resigning your office?" "No, I have not the slightest intention of doing anything of the sort."

"Has the portfolio of the secretary of the treasury been offered to you?" "No; all I know about that is what I read in the papers."

"Will your stay be long?" "No; I go back in a few weeks." "How about your leasing a house on Fifth avenue?" No answer but a smile.

One of Mr. Morton's friends said that he was already booked to return to France on the Normandie in November. His intention in coming over was to take part in the campaign. Mr. Morton went to the Hotel Hamilton, Fifth avenue and Forty-second street.

The President Was Persuaded.

New York, Oct. 7.—Secretary Frelinghuysen succeeded in persuading President Arthur to remain another day at his home in Somerville, N. J. The inducement was a dinner party which was given at his home Monday evening to the President and a number of personal friends from this city. At 10 o'clock, however, a cab was in waiting at the Jersey City depot in response to a telegram from Mr. Arthur, and he was driven at once to his apartments at the Fifth Avenue. It is expected that the president will remain in the city all the week, and the arrival of Minister Morton on the Normandie has renewed the stories connecting his name with the secretaryship of the treasury.

Getting Ready for the Finish.

Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 7.—The city was pretty well filled with politicians Monday night, many coming in by the trains preparatory to starting on the last week's work of the campaign before the election. Among the more prominent arrivals are Thomas A. Hendricks, ex-Governor Pillsbury, of Maine, and John R. Fellows, of the Democratic national committee, who were in consultation Sunday night with the Democratic state committee. Mr. Hendricks left here at 5 o'clock Monday morning for St. Mary's. He will stump the state until the election.

The Pleuro-Pneumonia.

Paris, Ill., Oct. 7.—The so-called pleuro-pneumonia reported here was a false scare arising from deaths in herds coming from Kentucky and Michigan, sixteen having died. Cattle men believe the death came from the cattle being overfed after they had been starved on long rides on the cars. One death, attributed to pleuro-pneumonia, was proved to be from dry murrain. All other cattle are doing well, and no disease is feared.

Gloomy Prospect for Ireland.

London, Oct. 7.—Earl Spencer has sent the government gloomy reports relative to the prospect of the coming winter in Ireland. Although the harvest is reported good, low prices of produce prevent farmers from meeting the payment of their rents. Should landlords insist upon their full legal rights, evictions will ensue and crime revive.

Refused to Fuse.

Jackson, Miss., Oct. 7.—At a meeting of the Republican executive committee, Monday, a letter was read from the chairman of the Greenback party proposing a fusion of the Greenbackers and Republicans on the electoral ticket, giving the Republicans five and the Greenbackers four. The committee refused. The result is a rumor that there will be a Butler and West electoral ticket in Mississippi.

Solon Chase in Iowa.

Knoxville, Iowa, Oct. 7.—A large crowd attended the Republican rally in this city. Owing to the threatening appearance of the sky the outdoor meeting was given up and the meeting held in the court house. Solon Chase, the ex-Greenbacker, entertained an audience of nearly 1,000 people, the court house being packed to suffocation. Several hundred persons were turned away, being unable to find standing room.

S. S. Cox Renominated.

New York, Oct. 7.—The Eighth district Democratic congressional convention met Monday night and unanimously renominated Hon. S. S. Cox. Conventions were held in all the other districts and with the exception of Gen. Egbert L. Viele, who was nominated for the new Thirteenth district, and the Hon. William Dorsheimer, all the present representatives were named.

FIRE UNDER GROUND.

Hecla Copper Mine on Fire with Disastrous Prospects.

Five Men Overcome in Attempts to Reach the Flames—A Miner's Heroic Devotion—Great Fear and Excitement.

HANCOCK, Mich., Oct. 7.—Saturday night fire was discovered in an idle portion of the Hecla branch of the Calumet and Hecla mine, in the eleventh level between number 3 and 4 shafts, where for several years wooden wedges from timber were made. The accumulation of chips and shavings, partly saturated, with oil, through some unknown cause, became ignited. Several men sent down, Saturday night, to use the hose, were driven back by the smoke. Thomas Gribbli was suffocated and could not be rescued. Sunday morning John Rapson, with three other volunteers, descended to examine the pumps and attempt to rescue Gribbli's body. After going a short distance they were driven back. Rapson was overcome. He was seen to fall back, but his comrades could not return to him. Other volunteers, among them R. Berryman, descended to attempt to recover Rapson's body. Three men were overcome. Berryman made strenuous efforts to save his comrades. He ran to the draft for air, and returning threw the three men into the car. Then he ran out again for more air, and returned and rang the bell. The car raised the three unconscious men. Berryman was almost exhausted. The recovery of the three is doubtful. There is danger of the fire reaching the large tramway, which is saturated with oil, and may conduct the fire to the other levels. The extent or progress of the fire is unknown. The mine is filled with smoke. The shafts are being closed to prevent a draft. Great fear and excitement prevails. This is the first underground fire in the Lake Superior copper mines, and the first suspension of work in this great copper-producer since the strike of 1873. The mine is heavily timbered throughout with pine, which is very inflammable. A large gang descended to fight the fire.

MARQUETTE, Mich., Oct. 7.—At 8 o'clock Monday afternoon the fire at the Calumet and Hecla mine was still burning, although somewhat under control, as the men on the surface had succeeded in battening the shafts and winzens in which the flames are raging. At this hour also fifteen men were taken out alive through the main shaft, but all efforts to reach the remaining fifty men had so far been of no avail. There are no dangerous gases in this mine and no fire could be fed by them according to the statement of copper mines.

There are a number of men in the lower levels, but as plenty of air can be got to them but little apprehension is felt as to their ultimate escape. Work is suspended at the mine, all the shafts being closed, and the most strenuous efforts are being put forth to subdue the flames.

An American Oliver Twist.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 7.—George Gilbertson, 12 years of age, giving Chicago as his residence took the stand in the police court Monday morning to testify against John Ryan, who was charged with loitering. The boy said that his parents were dead and that he had been working in a tannery at Chicago until recently, when it shut down. Shortly after he left his place the boy met Ryan, who persuaded him to start for Cincinnati, as he could there obtain work. Gilbertson consented, and the two set forth, "boating" their way on trains. Several times they stopped in towns along the road, and there Ryan forced the little orphan to beg for food, and on several occasions brutally whipped him. After arriving here Ryan attempted to induce the boy to enter several houses for the purpose of robbery, but without avail. On Saturday the dejected lad tried to escape from his tormentor, but he was rewarded with a thrashing for his attempt. Gilboerston finally succeeded in informing a Mrs. Delorno, of this city, of his situation, and she had him placed in the children's home. Sunday morning, Ryan called at the home for the child and while at the door was arrested. Monday he was given a sentence of three months in the workhouse. The boy will remain at the children's home.

Preparing for Blaine and Logan.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., Oct. 7.—The Springfield Republicans had a mass-meeting Monday night for the purpose of arranging for the reception of Blaine and Logan on the 24th inst. Dr. William Jayne was elected chairman. In taking the chair the doctor made a few remarks, in which he suggested that the Democrats be invited to participate. D. T. Littler, member of the national committee, then took charge of the meeting and presented a resolution providing for the appointment of a general committee of arrangements, which was adopted, and which made Mr. Littler chairman and general manager. Governor Hamilton was called out. He said he did not like the suggestion to invite Democrats to participate in the proposed reception. He thought the Republicans of Illinois were abundantly able to take care of Blaine and Logan, while in the state.

Butler in Michigan.

IONIA, Mich., Oct. 7.—Three thousand people at Kalamazoo listened to a thirty minutes' speech from Gen. Butler Monday morning. He ridiculed the civil service idea as it is practiced and regretted that the soldiers were not paid in gold as well as the bondholders. Two drunken men caused the general a good deal of annoyance by denouncing him for having voted for Jeff Davis and landing a negro brigade at one time during the war. He stopped his speech very unceremoniously. He spoke in Lansing in the afternoon and addressed a large turnout here Monday night.

Voorhees at Valparaiso.

VALPARAISO, Ind., Oct. 7.—At an early hour Monday morning the people of the surrounding country began to pour into this city, which was handsomely decorated in honor of D. W. Voorhees, who addressed one of the largest audiences assembled in this city during the campaign. At night a great procession paraded the streets, while the town was brilliantly illuminated with Chinese lanterns and fireworks. After the parade Firman Church, of La Porte, Ind., addressed a large audience assembled in front of the Central house.

Logan in West Virginia.

CHARLESTOWN, W. Va., Oct. 7.—Gen. John A. Logan and suite arrived here from Huntington at 12 m. Monday, en route through the southern part of the state. Large crowds greeted the general everywhere along the route. Gen. Logan stopped off here, and made a speech to a large audience. He left two hours later. He will stop at all the towns up the valley and through to the Virginia line. There was much enthusiasm demonstrated, and firing of cannon.

"A God-Send."

The children of Israel were once fed by manna, sent from Heaven. This was an undoubted case of "God-send." The amelioration of human ills and ailments has been often undertaken, and as often failed. Ely's Cream Balm, however, "has been weighed in the balance and not found wanting." It is a sovereign, speedy, certain and pleasant cure for Catarrh and Cold in the Head. Thousands of persons have attested this fact. "Ely's Cream Balm is a God-send," wrote Mrs. M. A. Jackson, of Portsmouth, N. H., on May 22d, 1882. "I had Catarrh for three years; had tried nearly all remedies, but to no purpose. Two or three times a week my nose would bleed quite freely, and I thought the sores in it would never heal. Your Balm has cured me." This preparation is not a liquid or a snuff, and is easily applied. Can you, reader, afford to experiment with injurious snuffs and injections when a pleasant and certain cure is at hand?

Horrible Affair in Michigan in Which Two People Are Sent to Eternity—Other Criminal Occurrences.

NEWAYGO, Mich., Oct. 7.—Sunday evening Abia Armstrong, returning home, found his wife in bed with Guy Bates and demanded admittance, which was refused. This so exasperated him that he obtained an ax, and upon returning the door was opened. His wife seized him by both arms and called for Bates to go below and get a revolver which lay upon the bureau, saying: "Then we will fix him." Armstrong broke from his wife and struck her twice diagonally across the neck with his ax, severing the jugular vein; he then followed Bates, whom he met at the foot of the stairs, with a revolver in his hand. He made away with Bates in the same manner, and leaving them both dead, immediately gave himself up. In the morning Bates lay at the foot of the stairs on his back, and the floor and stairs were covered with blood. A child 16 months old, which was asleep in a room on the first floor, awoke and fell out upon the floor and crawled out to the body of Bates, where it was found besmeared with blood. Mrs. Armstrong would have been 19 years old Jan. 1. Her husband is 26. They were married April 9, 1883, at Gabblesville, Van Buren county. Bates was a desperate character, and is said to have killed two men. His parents live at Big Rapids, and his father, who was summoned here by telegraph, refused to buy a shirt to lay him out in, and said had he known which son it was he would never have come for the body.

Prisoners Attack a Sheriff.

WAUKEGAN, Ills., Oct. 7.—Monday evening, about 6 o'clock, as Sheriff Swansborough was bringing supper to the prisoners in the county jail, two of them assaulted and stunned him, striking him with a brick. He received the blow on his arm, thereby probably saving his life. The prisoners rushed by him; one of them, Harris, a horsethief, losing his way, went up into the court house, where he was recaptured, the doors being locked. The other prisoner, a boy, made his way out of the building. He was met by the sheriff's assistant, whom he struck on the head, after which he continued his flight. He was pursued by the assistant, who fired ten shots at him, but he escaped.

Capen's Caper and Its Complications.

BARRINGTON, N. H., Oct. 7.—Five weeks ago Timothy Capen, a well-to-do farmer, disappeared in company with his son's mother-in-law, Mrs. William Freeman. Capen returned alone in eight days, and Mrs. Freeman followed two days after. Both assert that there has been nothing unlawful in their intercourse and that their elopement was designed merely to remove Mrs. Freeman for a season from the cruelty of her husband. The outcome is an odd complication. Freeman sues Capen for $3,000 damages, while both Mrs. Capen and Mrs. Freeman have filed bills of divorce.

An Arizona Slaughter.

TUCSON, A. T., Oct. 7.—Intelligence has just been received that Joseph Winfield and S. Fritz and their wives were found murdered on Oct. 3 at James Rafferty's ranch in the Huachuca mountains. Rafferty, who is missing, is also believed to have been murdered. It is rumored that a band of Mexicans from Sonora committed the murders in revenge for the death of the Mexican Quinono, who was hanged July 10.

Sentenced to Death.

SAVANNAH, Mo., Oct. 7.—Oliver H. Bateman, who murdered the two little McLaughlin girls some time ago, was sentenced to death Monday. He waived all his legal rights. Said he was guilty and willing to suffer the penalty. He insisted upon pleading guilty and refused an attorney, and said he would rather be hanged than go to the penitentiary. He was examined in jail by three physicians, who pronounced him sane, but with animal passion predominating.

A Prominent Indianian Disappears.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 7.—W. W. Cantrell, a member of the state board of agriculture, and for the past four years an auditor of Henry county, in this state, has mysteriously disappeared. He was in attendance at the state fair during the week. There is a rumor that he displayed a considerable amount of money while paying his hotel bill, and foul play is suspected. No cause exists for his absenting himself from home. A thorough search is being made for him.

Got Three Years for It.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 7.—In the United States district court Monday afternoon, Joseph J. C. Dougherty pleaded guilty to the charge of embezzling and converting to his own use certain money order funds, amounting to $3,335.84. He was sentenced to three years in jail and to pay a fine of $3,335.84. Dougherty was one of the clerks in the Baltimore postoffice money-order department.

Democratic Rallies.

MARQUETTE, Mich., Oct. 7.—A very large and enthusiastic Democratic meeting was held here Monday night. Large delegations were present from Ishpeming and Negaunee. J. A. Savage and H. P. Swineford addressed the meeting. Mr. Savage reports a lively interest in his addresses throughout the district by miners of all nationalities. From the remarks of the men, he judges that the fusion ticket will make a great showing.

PETERSBURG, Ills., Oct. 7.—The Democrats of this county held a grand rally at Talitha, Saturday night. Maj. W. P. Callon of Jacksonville, made a speech, reviewing the tariff question. He was followed by S. S. Knoles and Hon. T. W. McNeily.

LE CLAIRE, Iowa, Oct. 7.—The Democrats of Le Claire held a meeting Monday night, filling to overflowing the largest hall in the city. Judge Murphy addressed the assembly.

Sluggar Sullivan Missing Again.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The announcement that John L. Sullivan was to spar Monday night with Steve Taylor in Turn hall attracted a very large crowd of the better class of the sporting fraternity to that place. After sparring bouts between some well-known local pugilists, it was announced that the great champion would not appear. The statement was received with loud hisses by the packed audience. Steve Taylor had a set-to with Mike Cleary, both showing some fine scientific boxing, which seemed to appease the temper of the audience. All passed off quietly.

Secretary Teller.

WASHINGTON CITY, Oct. 7.—Secretary Teller will go to Colorado in a day or two, and expects to return to Washington in about a month. The annual reports of the bureau officers of the interior department will soon be ready, but the secretary has decided not to give them to the public until after his return from the western trip.

AT

M. C. Smith's New York Cash Store,

For the Fall Trade of

Ladies' Garments,

consisting of

Dolmans, Sacks, Paletots, New Markets, Russian Circulars

Etc. We have these garments in Seal Plush, Plain and Brocaded Silk, and Plain and Diagonal Beavers.

To sum up the matter in a few words, we shall open on Tuesday, September 2d, 1884, the largest and best assortment of ladies fine garments ever shown in the interior of the state. We gave very large orders July 1st, to three different manufacturers of these goods, in order to have our goods made in the dull season of the year, when good help could be obtained to make garments, consequently our garments are much better made than garments are that are made late in the season when everybody is in a hurry, and manufacturers have to take any work they can get. Our garments are all tailor made, far superior to any that will be found at any other house in the city. It is a well known fact that we have taken the entire lead in the sale of ladies fine garments for the past two years, particularly Fine Seal Plush Sacques, Dolmans and Circulars, running in price from $25 to $75. In these goods we defy all competition.

We propose this year to beat any of our former efforts. We have the goods now ready for sale. Parties intending to buy garments this season the sooner they buy them the better the assortment will be to select from. We have now on hand a full assortment of sizes. Last season we had a good deal of trouble in getting sizes late in the season, and had to wait a long time to get them, and the garments were not so well made at that time of year, as they had to be rushed through.

We defy any house in Janesville to show as fine a stock of Seal Plush and Brocade Silk garments as we have at the present time.

We have just received three tons at one shipment of garments. We are told that we can never sell the amount of garments we have just received. We know we can for these garments will sell themselves. All we have to do is to show them.

Ladies desiring fine garments are respectfully requested to call early before the sizes are broken. Also a large stock of misses' and children's garments just received, very cheap.

Home.

How many pleasant recollections are called into being by that one word? Home! that sweet word has caused tears to flow unbidden to the eyes of a hardened criminal, or calmed the grosser passions. 'Tis the one haven of earthly rest. Should the outside world buffet one around, if he has a home—now I must be understood to mean a home where there is unison and sympathy among the inmates, and not a mere place to eat, drink and sleep—when he goes home, heartsore and weary from his contact with the world, how soon will he be refreshed! His spirits will be reanimated; he will feel, let come what may, that he may retire to the bosom of his family and there find rest and contentment.

Cannot one toil manfully all day with his hard duties, if he has a home in view? Will he not feel abundantly repaid for all his perseverance, on returning home, his wife or sister, who is waiting and watching for him? Ah! how sweet to him will be the tender smile and loving kiss of welcome! They will be doubly sweet to him now, and he will thank heaven for giving him such love and tenderness.

Now, to make home attractive and cheerful is woman's work. No home can be a home unless woman's presence can be discerned in the neatness and coziness of everything around. Some females may rave about politics and all such subjects, but if they could have their way they would put themselves where God never intended they should be placed.

'Tis man's duty to go forth and battle with the world; woman's work to govern that realm of bliss—home. When woman is raving about female suffrage, does she think she is wiser than man? No she don't not think any such thing. She is one of those masculine women who are too indolent and hardened to have any soft place left in her bosom for such duties as are required to be done for "home, sweet home." Some women should not be allowed to invade the sanctum of those lovable women who rightly appreciate domestic felicity.

A modest, sensitive woman will find her heart expanding around the family hearth, instead of growing contracted like those of worldly-minded women who think they have a call to go forth and govern the outside world, and let her own little world be governed by servants or by chance. Now, as home should be the dearest place on earth, it is the duty of every member of the family, to make home as agreeable as possible, so that each of the inmates may say with the poet:

"Be it ever so humble, there's no place like home."

The best on earth, can truly be said of Griggs' Glycerine Salve, which is a sure, safe and speedy cure for cuts, bruises, scalds, burns, wounds and all other sores. Will positively cure piles, tetter and all skin eruptions. Try this wonder healer. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Only 25 cents. Sold by Sterns & Baker.

A True Mule Story.

DEAR JACK: The rescue of a mule in Bienville Parish, La., from a well sixty feet deep, caused so much excitement here lately that I send an account to you.

It is vouched for by some of the best citizens of the place, who witnessed it, and I assure you it is every word true.

This mule fell, hind-feet backward into an old dry well sixty feet deep; it is supposed that the edge of the well caved in with him. All efforts to rescue him were fruitless, as he was completely wedged in. Finally the owner of the mule, supposing that the poor creature was severely injured by the fall, decided that it would be more merciful to have him killed than to allow him to starve to death. Not knowing any other way to dispatch him, he had a cart-load of dirt thrown in upon him. But, instead of allowing himself to be buried alive, his muleship quietly shook off the dirt and pressed it down with his feet, thus raising himself several inches above his original position. Another load with the same result; and then some one said that if the mule would continue trampling down the dirt, it was possible that he might be extricated; it would do no harm to try, any way. Acting on this suggestion, all the farm hands went to work filling the well, carefully pouring the dirt in on the sides, so as not to hurt the mule. It was slow work filling that deep well, but a hearty interest was awakened by the perseverance with which the poor animal tramped down the dirt, and all worked with willing hands.

Slowly but surely, inch by inch, did he ascend, until the great well was filled within a few feet of the top; then, as complacently as if nothing had happened, his muleship stepped out safe and sound!

I think, if he could have then been blessed with speech, he would have said, "All's well that ends well!" Wasent he a plucky old fellow?—Jack in the Pulpit.

YANKEE ROBINSON.

The Originator of the Gorgeous Street Parades—Ability and Eccentricity—How He Wrote His Show-Bills.

[Chicago Tribune Interview.]

"To be sure I knew Yankee Robinson," said Mr. J. L. Hutchinson, of the firm of Barnum, Baily & Hutchinson. "His real name was Fayette Ludowic Robinson."

"Were you ever associated with him in the show business?"

"Yes; for several years I traveled with him. Once I was about to leave him, and he said, 'Stay with me one more year and I'll make you so valuable that I can't afford to hire you.'"

"He was quite prosperous at one time, was he not?"

"I should say so. In 1868 he had the largest and best show, circus and menagerie combined there was in the country. He must have been worth $100,000 at that time."

"Was he a man of original ideas?"

"Yes. He was the originator of the handsome street parades. Of course one of them in those days wouldn't look like much now, but they took like wildfire then. He was the most original advertiser I ever saw. Every once in a while—well, almost every day—we take in half dollars stamped in the metal, 'Good for one admission to Yankee Robinson's show.'" Of course the half dollar was good, and is now, but there are people who keep those pieces until a circus comes along for some unexplained reason. Then he used to have a song he sung, and had a poster made of the music, each note being about two or three feet long, and he would paste it up on the fence. There would be a crowd surrounding it all day, and humming the music. He was also very egotistical. Once the advance agents got water-bound in some Illinois town in high water in the spring, and the show caught up with them, so no notice was given of our coming to the people. It was his practice under such circumstances to ride ahead one day on a horse to some little town, and, seeing a crowd of loafers in the street or in front of a saloon, he would approach them and ask them if they had ever heard of the great showman Yankee Robinson. Some would say yes, others no. He would then swell out his chest, take off his hat, and say: 'He stands before you. Feast your eyes! The show will be here tomorrow.' But the poor old man has been down at the heel for the last ten years. He played a very successful engagement in Crosby opera house here before the fire, having Sanyeah, the first female gymnast. He made a pot of money there.

"Robinson was a man of unbounded extravagance. He presented his family physician right here in Chicago with a $500 diamond ring, when I knew that he had just brought a horse for $3,000 in St. Paul, paying down $500 and still owing $2,500 on the horse. You remember a play he used to have, 'Stand Down in the Hall.' A sort of Yankee play it was. Years ago he lived in Honeoye Falls, N. Y., and I believe he was born there. The place is right near Canandaigua. He used to keep a shoemaker's shop there many years ago, for he has often spoken to me of it. I think he married his first wife there. His second wife he married in Chicago. He was a man of great ability, but he needed some one to curb him and sit down on his wild projects. He used to have a business manager that could control him pretty well, and then he made money."

"Wasn't he rather eccentric?"

"Yes. Some people used to call him crazy. I have known him at times to commence pulling his beard out a single hair at a time, and before the season was out he wouldn't need a razor. That's a fact. But then he understood people, too. In writing his show bills he would use the simplest language. He never called the show a 'transcendent aggregation of wonders.' It was always his big show, and nothing else. But when left to himself he would always go to pieces. He had no idea of management. He was a man of original ideas, but very bad executive ability. Peace to his ashes."

The Story of an Umbrella.

[Denver Times.]

Gen. E. F. Sickles, the Colorado commissioner to the New Orleans exposition, was telling some friends a few days ago about his first glimpse of a mountain lion. He said: "We were living up in the mountains and had quite a herd of cows, among them one, an old cow, who wore a bell. The cows had been missing for several days, and the boys were out searching, and one afternoon I thought I would try what I could do. So I mounted a pony and rode quite a distance, when I thought I heard the old cow's bell. I dismounted and started to prowl around among the rocks and bushes.

"It had been raining during the early part of the afternoon, and I had an umbrella. I tied the pony to a tree and started. After I had gone a short distance I caught a glimpse of the cows. As I started toward them, suddenly they lifted their heads, crooked their tails, and started away on a dead run. I was just wondering what frightened them, when I heard a rustling in the bushes behind me.

"I turned around, and there, not ten feet away, was a big mountain lion standing on a rock staring at me. I assure you I never felt so bashful in all my life. I hadn't a gun or even a jack-knife, and there was the beast staring and getting ready for a spring. All at once I thought of my umbrella, and as quick as thought I raised that much-borrowed article, and spread it right in Mr. Lion's face! He didn't stop to examine, but made one great jump clear across a gorge, and when he lighted gave a yell that shook the hills.

"I saw no more of him. When I got home the cows were there."

A New Way to Buy a Horse.

The Turf, Field and Farm says that previous to the $10,000 race at Hartford, J. D. Ripley requested Charles H. Raymond to put a price on the gray golding, Phil Thompson, who was entered for the purse and was regarded as having a good chance to win. Mr. Raymond declined, but said that he would entertain an offer. Mr. Ripley remarked in an off-hand way, "I will give you double what you paid David Bonner for his half interest in the horse." "Say double and $3,000 additional, and the horse is yours." "No, but I will make it $1,000. Mr. Raymond reflected a moment and then remarked, "I will take it." "All right, now tell me what you paid David Bonner for his half interest." "What, you do not know?" "No," "Well, it was $5,500." "The devil, you say. Then I owe you $18,000."

I believe that when a man has sinned and resolves to do better, that very moment he is forgiven. According to the old theologies, they used to take a soul to hell, and, after keeping it voyaging around for a season, it was brought to the forgiving love of Christ, where it might just as well have been brought at first. If a man has been a drunkard and stops drinking, that settles it; nothing else is necessary; and it is so with a man that has been leading an evil life; if he stops and quits sinning, and determines henceforth to do well, that is sufficient. He is forgiven.—Beecher.

The most delicate persons enjoy taking Emory's Little Cathartic Pills, give a wholesome appetite, put new life in a broken-down body.—15 cents.

—Dr. Henry Palmer came very near furnishing us a first-class item this noon. He jumped into his buggy, which was standing on Milwaukee street, in front of Pitcher & Ziegler's clothing establishment, and started up in a great hurry, but in turning around one of the buggy wheels flew off the axle—the Doctor jumped, striking square on his feet, and the wheel went spinning several rods down the street. No particular damages, and only a twelve line item.

The Weather.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer registered 63 degrees above zero. Cloudy with south wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 77 degrees above zero. Cloudy, with south west wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 50 and 70 degrees above zero.

Correction.

To the Editor.

In your Monday report of Saturday's races you say "H. S. Woodruff drove his stallion Joe Bassett," which was an error. Joe Bassett is a large dark bay horse and was shown on Friday. The horse shown by me on Saturday was my black colt, Buckles, by Swigert.

Burr Robbins' Show.

Burr Robbins' show exhibited here on Tuesday to a large and delighted crowd, both afternoon and evening. The street parade was one of the finest ever witnessed here, made up of all the glittering paraphernalia of modern displays. The wagons, chariots, and bright tapestry made a most imposing pageant, about a mile in length, and was made the subject of many compliments from the assembled multitude that thronged the walks, streets, and windows as it paraded the principal streets. The menagerie is composed of a fine aggregation of the animal kingdom and the circus made up of fine artists. A more gentlemanly class of men we have never met, and we have but words of commendation for Burr Robbins and his quadruple exhibition, which is second to none in point of size, character and exhibition, and can only add that it is "immense."—Marysville (Ohio) Journal.

Other remedies for neuralgia and rheumatism have failed because they have not reached the fountain of the trouble, which is the blood. Medical science has shown that these are blood diseases. Athlophoros goes right to to their source by clearing out the poisonous and acrid substances, and restoring the life current to a condition of health. Mrs. A. B. Baker, of Chicago, was cured of pains in the back, from which she had suffered fifteen years, by the use of half a bottle of this wonderful medicine.

—Rev. Dr. M. G. Hodge, of the Baptist church, went to Milwaukee to-day to attend the Baptist state convention. Dr. Hodge will return home on Saturday.

—Mr. James Galbraith, of Galbraith Bros., this city, sailed to-day, from New York, for Scotland, where he will remain for some time, selecting a fine lot of Clydesdale horses for importation to this country.

Rev. Harry Faville, formerly pastor of Court Street M. E. church is returned to Algona street, Oshkosh, and Rev. C. M. Wells, a former pastor of the First M. E. church, is stationed at Appleton, as presiding elder of that district.

—Miss Carrie Stevens, of Madison, who has been visiting her brother, Mr. F. L. Stevens, of the fourth ward, left today for Clinton, where she will remain a few days with friends, and then go to Illinois to spend the winter.

—Miss Julia Cannon, of the first ward, has just returned from Helena, Montana, where she has been visiting for a number of weeks with an uncle who resides there. While absent Miss Cannon joined a party of tourist, including a number of relatives of our next president, and made a tour of the Yellowstone park. The trip was very delightful and her discription of the "big geyser," with its column of boiling water, shooting up into the air two hundred and fifty feet every thirty minutes, is very entertaining. An old horse shoe, picked up by the party and thrown into this wonderful boiling spring, was flung high in the air and changed in appearance to a pure white. This horse shoe, with other specimens and views collected by Miss Cannon may be seen in the show window of F. C. Cook & Co., opposite the postoffice.

A Handsome Compliment to Mr. Fethers.

Mr. Ogden H. Fethers spoke before an immense republican mass meeting at Appleton a few days ago, and the day following the Daily Post of that city gave the speech and the speakers this hand. some and well-deserved notice:

"Mr. O. H. Fethers, the next speaker of the evening, is, in good truth, one of the finest orators that ever addressed an Appleton audience. He has a power of eloquence which electrifies and delights an audience. He reasons closely and presents every point in his argument in a manner so clear and simple that the most ordinary intelligence can fully comprehend his meaning and the full force of his logic. Mr. Fethers reviewed the history of the two great parties of the country for the past twenty five years. In his arraignment of their record the magnificent achievements of the republican organization were made to stand out with an undiminished brilliancy that should excite the admiration of every patriot, when compared to the disloyal and vascillating record of the democratic party. To review Mr. Fethers' speech in full would be to write a book. He handled his audience at will. When he touched on serious questions their profound silence told the story of their earnest interest in his words; while their outbursts of enthusiasm demonstrated their appreciation of his very forcible and witty illustrations. If every voter in Wisconsin could hear Mr. Fethers' comparison of the two parties there would not be many democrats left in this commonwealth. Mr. Fethers is a growing man and if he is not some day called to fill a position of high honor, it will be because the masses of the people have lost their appreciation of genius and sterling ability."

CONVINCING ARGUMENTS.

A Ten Strike for the Republican Party,

By Dr. J. H. Randall, at the Court House Park.

Sober Facts Worth Considering.

The appearance of the Bower City band on the street at seven o'clock last evening, was the signal for another grand republican rally, and as they formed in line at the head of a column of Blaine and Logan Invincibles composed of a good representation of both companies A. and B, and marched down West Milwaukee street; the music and well disciplined manoeuvers of the torch bearers, caused every loyal republican to feel not only enthusiastic, but proud of his party.

The line of march ended at the court house park, where a temporary platform had been erected for the speakers' stand. The Hon. James Sutherland presided, his opening remarks were well timed and enthusiastically received. By eight o'clock a large audience had assembled, and Dr. J. H. Randall was introduced as the speaker of the evening. For an hour and a quarter the Dr. held the audience in clear attention and his arguments were close and concisive. He opened his address by a flattering eulogy to the great west, and after denying and proving very conclusively the falsity of the charges that Mr. Blaine was in any way implicated or in sympathy with the mobbing of a Catholic priest, or that he was ever connected with the know-nothing party, he launched out into his speech which was purely along the line of protection to American labor. He stated that this feature of American politics was the only one in which he was interested, and that he had been prominently identified with the labor reform movements throughout the country for a number of years, traveling and speaking on this question in many of the southern states, as well as in the north, independent of either the republican or democratic parties. That after carefully studying the situation he had come to the conclusion that one of the two great political parties would always be in power, and this being the case he believed that the principles of the republican party were much more in sympathy with the great mass of laboring people than were the principles of the democratic party. He reviewed briefly the oppression of the Irish race by Great Britain and claimed for the United States that it was the "dumping ground" for the pauper element of many foreign nations, but that while many of the poor and oppressed of other countries came to our shores in a destitute condition, they soon found here a broad and productive land where freedom of thought, speech, and action, made it possible to acquire an independence unknown to the poor of other nations.

He stated that Great Britain was in sympathy with the democratic party because that party was in favor of free trade, and free trade to America meant flooding our country with the product of cheap labor abroad and would result in closing a large percentage of our factories and in the end reducing our labor to the minimum of European labor. His comparison of the labor question under democratic rule at the present time in the south with labor under republican government at the north, showed very clearly where the interest of American labor is best protected.

This pertinent question, which the Dr. propounded just before closing should be carefully weighed by every Irish American.

Why is it that every Irishman who comes to America drifts into the democratic party as though that party had a mortgage on him? The applause that followed his next statement, which was, that the interest would not be paid on the mortgage, this year, because the crop of votes would be too short, showed that the speaker had struck a popular cord in the hearts of his audience, which was largely composed of his own countrymen.

The speech throughout was free from personalities, and was an able defence of the republican party's position on the labor question.

During the speech the doctor was interrupted by some man with an unfilled capacity in the upper story, and the audience was annoyed by some persons wearing dresses who seemed to be wound up for the occasion.

Dr. Randall speaks to-night at DeKalb, Ill.

The Third Week.

The third week of the Milwaukee Exposition is well under way, and the future is as promising as the present is gratifying and the past satisfactory to the management.

The thousands of visitors seem well pleased with the exhibition, and appreciate the efforts made for their entertainment and comfort.

The attendance is increasing daily, and the number of special attractions draw large audiences. The great Panorama is steadily growing into high favor, and it has been found necessary to increase the force of employes in order to prevent overcrowding of the platform and entrance. A competent lecturer explains the picture and indicates the points of special interest every ten minutes. No one should fail to see this grand painting.

Nores, the survivor of the Jeannette' with the DeLong relics and Arctic curiosities, is a center of interest, and the wonderful story of hardships and suffering in the frozen north come with great force from the lips of an actual survivor of the world-known Delong expedition. Bradford's paintings, with the genial artist himself in charge, the superb art gallery, the hundreds of beautiful exhibits the fine music; all these combine to make the fourth annual exposition memorable in the annals of the association.
